

User Login Scenario: Output Screenshots from Alzheimer's Disease Testing Software.

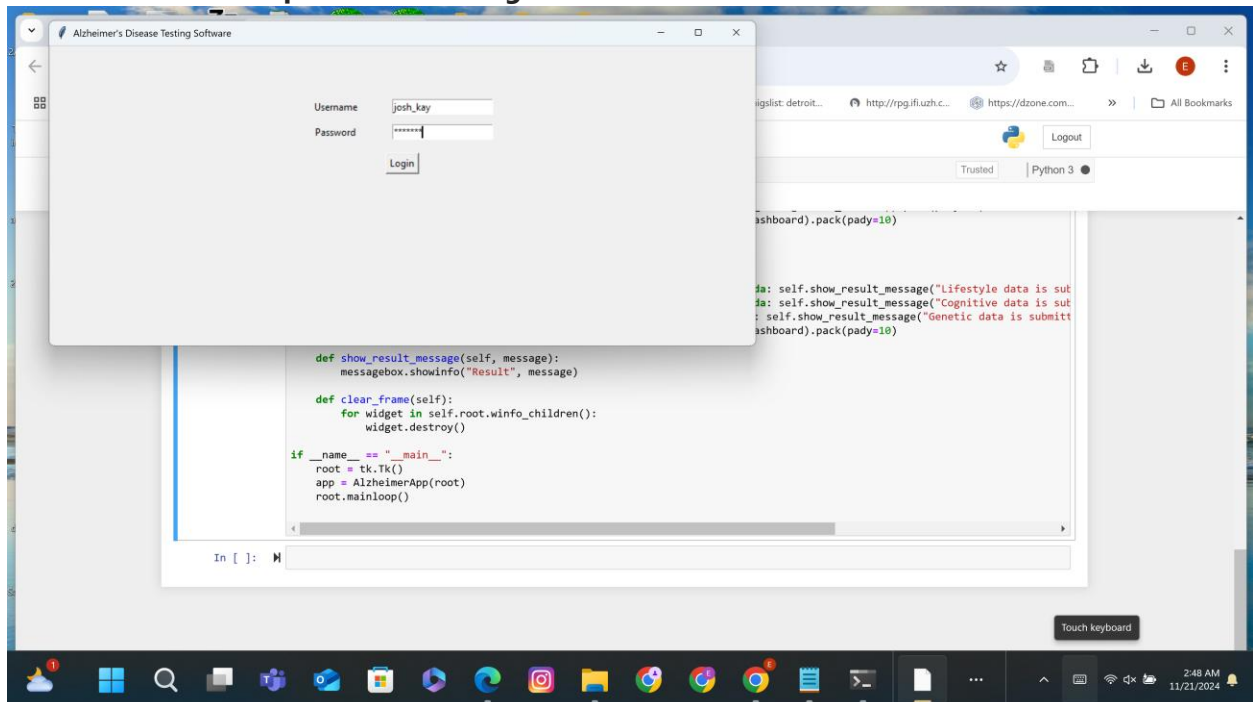

MySQL database displaying information for the fictitious user Josh Kay.

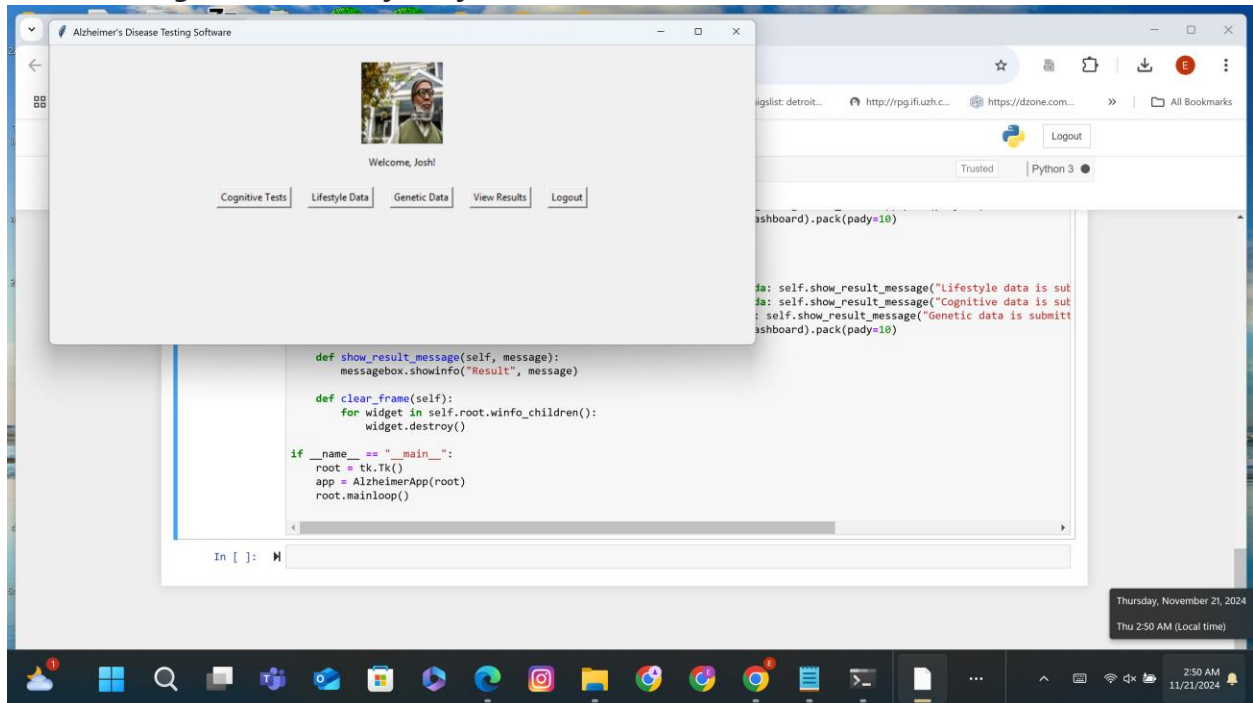

User Log in screen for Alzheimer Disease Testing Software

When a wrong password or username is used, the system will display a login error, showing an 'invalid username or password' message

If the user logs in successfully, they are taken to the Dashboard.

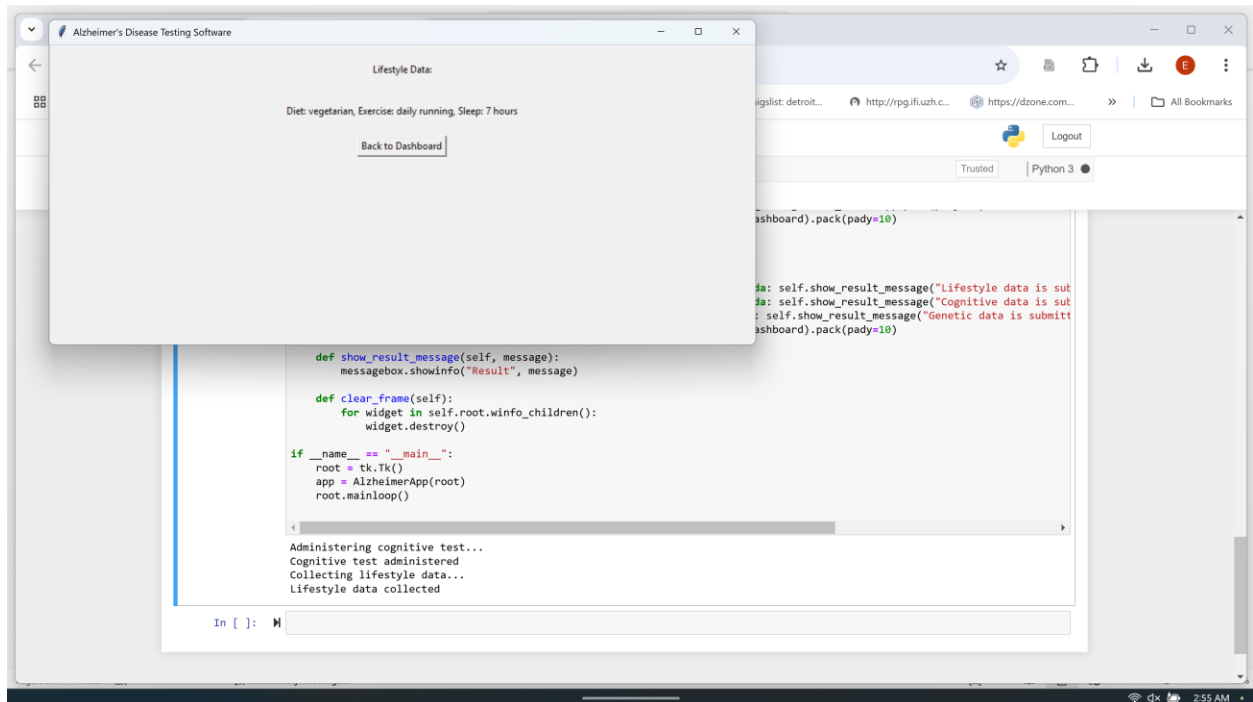

On the dashboard, the system displays the user's profile picture and a welcome message

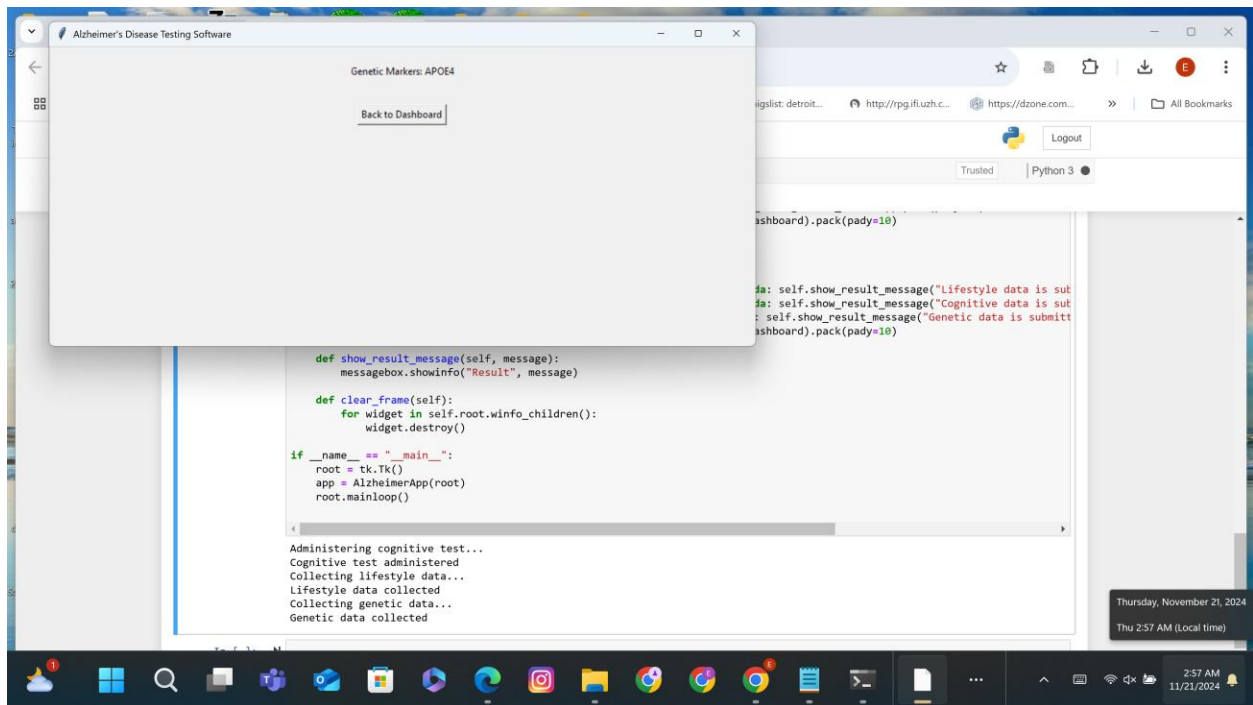

Users can navigate from the Dashboard to the cognitive test to see their score

From the Cognitive test user can go back to the Dashboard

From the Dashboard user can navigate to the Lifestyle Data and return

Users can also navigate to Genetic Data and return to the Dashboard

Users can navigate to the Results page to view the status of their cognitive data and then return to the Dashboard

Users can navigate to the Results page to view the status of their lifestyle data and then return to the dashboard

Users can navigate to the Results page to view the status of their Genetic data and then return to the dashboard

Users can log out from the dashboard