Program screenshots from visual studios 19

When a wrong password or username is used, the system will display a login error, showing an 'invalid username or password' message

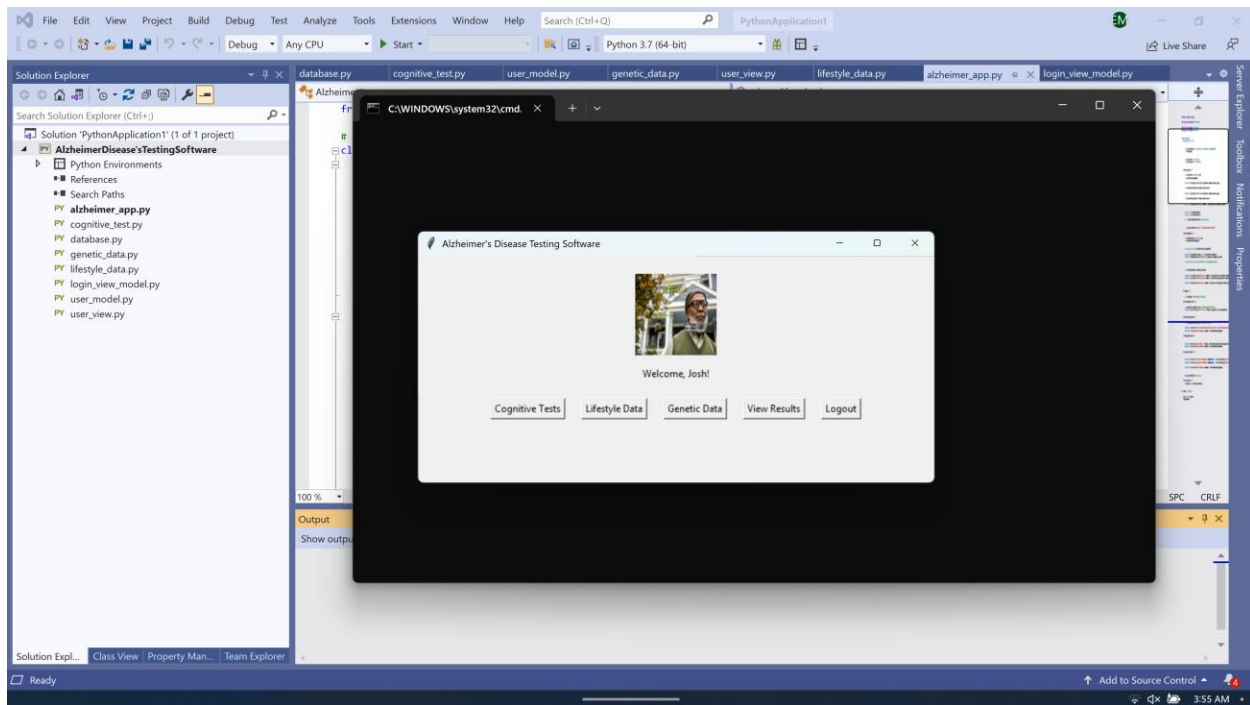

If the registered user logs in successfully, they are taken to the Dashboard

Users will first register and then be taken to the dashboard as registered users.

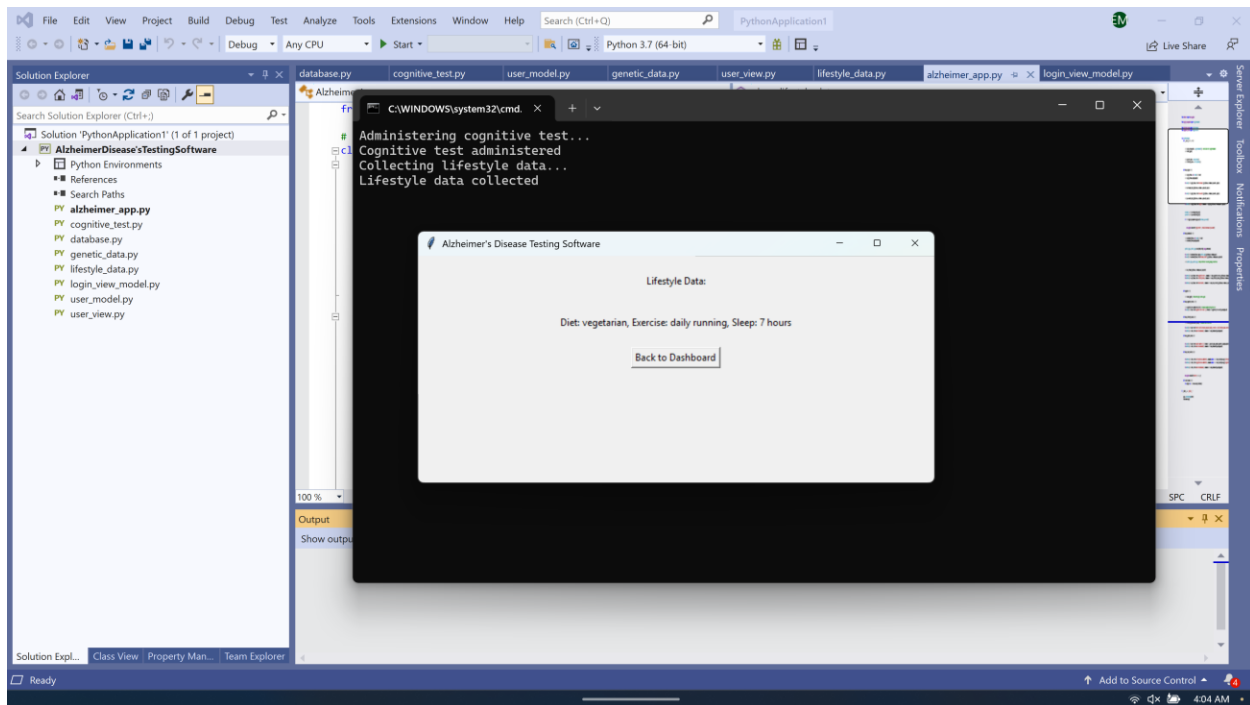

On the dashboard, the system displays the user's profile picture and a welcome message
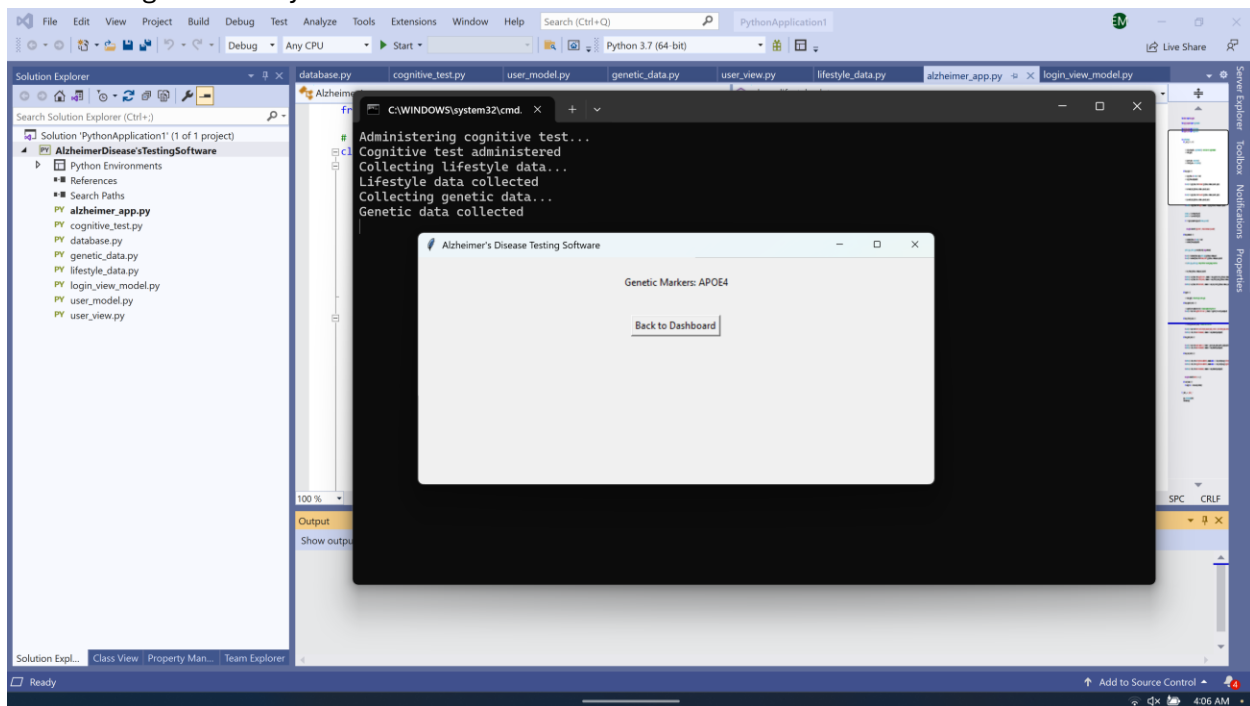

Users can navigate to view their cognitive test scores, lifestyle data, genetic data, and results, as well as log out from this page

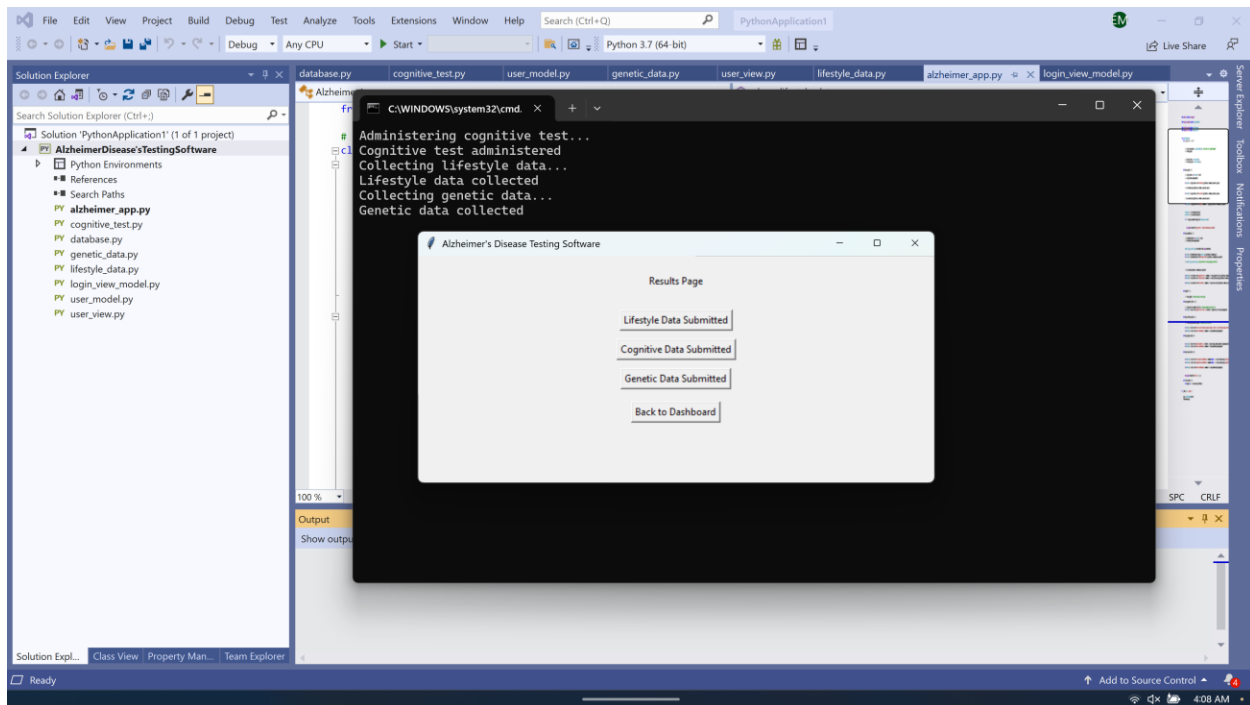

From cognitive tests users can return to the dashboard

After seeing their lifestyle data users can return to the dashboard

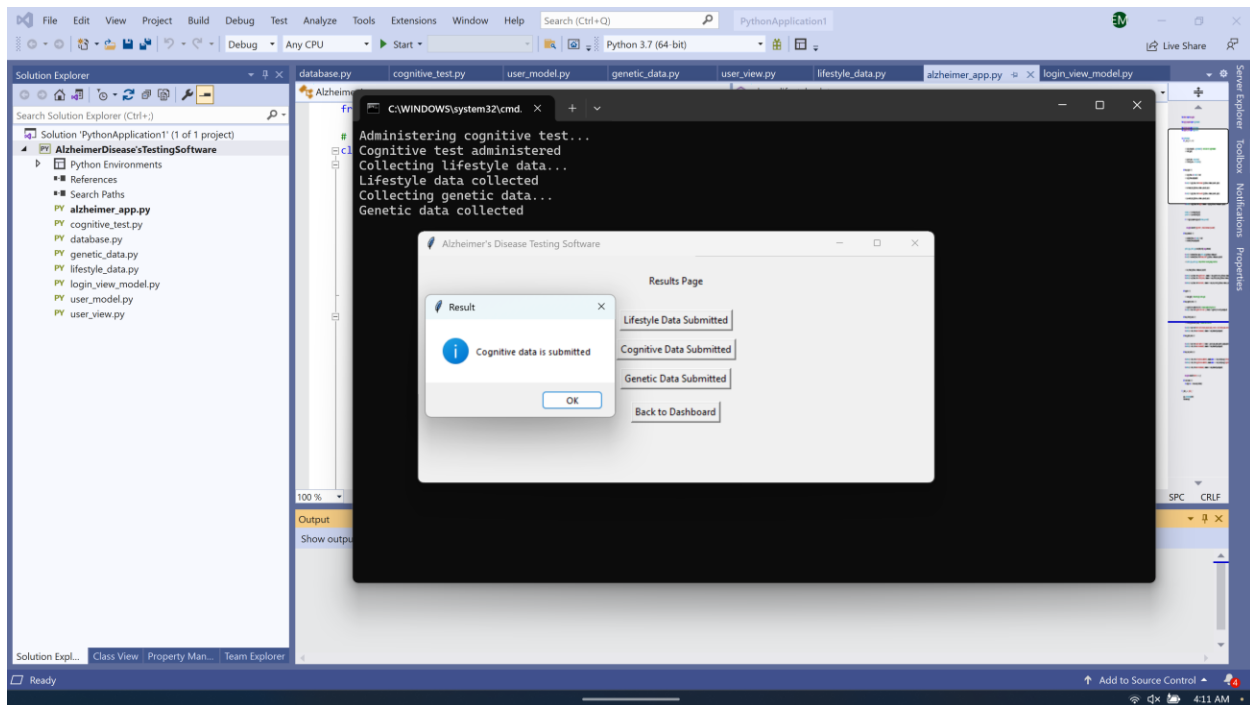

After seeing their genetic data users can return to the dashboard.

On the Results Page, users can click the 'Submitted' button to check the status of their lifestyle, cognitive, and genetic data, and then return to the dashboard.

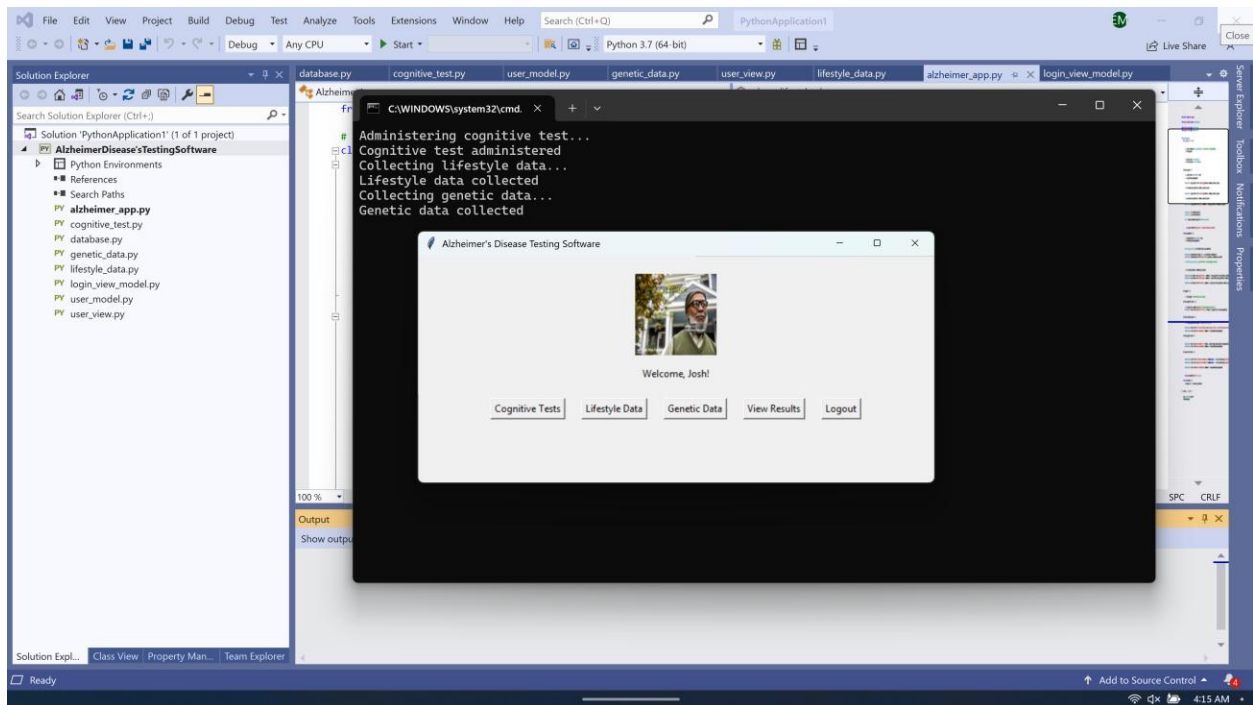

The status of the lifestyle data is displayed as 'submitted.'

The status of the cognitive data is displayed as 'submitted.'

The status of the genetic data is displayed as 'submitted.'

Users can log out from the dashboard

After logging out, users are redirected to the login page